

Jo-Marie's Five Fun Facts

5 Fun Facts You Didn't Know About Me:

1. The setting for Adi's World came to me when I stuck my head into a dying, hollowed-out tree.

2. Falling head first off a stage in first grade should have taught me to look where I step; falling down a flight of stairs and shattering my ankle some forty years later, reminded me of the lesson I forgot.

3. Older women (not exactly in perfect physical shape) can still have fun belly dancing.

4. A clumsy teacher should never leave a stack round plastic tubes on the floor at the front of her classroom.

5. I truly believe that letting ice cream start to melt removes all its calories. I just wish the scale agreed with my unique form of logic.
