Frequently Asked Questions

Q1: Why do you really have to move? The sale might not go through.

- The commercial space of Goldhill Shopping Centre has been put up for collective sale.
- However, even if the sale does not go through, we believe that it is only a matter of time before the whole process will be completed.
- So, when the current unit at Far East became available, we felt that it made sense to move now rather than later, when the rest of the 'Goldhill Centre tuition community' floods the market, demanding similar units for their operations.
- It is also timely that the lease for our current premises at Goldhill Centre ends on 31 July 2018.
- Hence, we want to secure a new place soonest possible.

Q2: Why are we moving so suddenly/ so early?

Why can't you move during the December holidays?

- It was very challenging finding a new unit that suits our needs and is located in the vicinity. So, when the current unit was available, we felt that it made sense to move now rather than later.
- Ideally, a move in December would be the least disruptive, but securing another commercial space later in the year would be risky since we will be vying with the rest of the 'Goldhill Centre tuition community' for a suitable space.
- We need a place that is conducive for our students and MOE-approved.
- We hope to move with the least disruption, so the next best option is the July- August period before examinations.
